THE WEEKLY STAR.

Staunton, Va., THOS. H. GRESHAM.

We challenge publishers of weekly journals to compare their papers of this week with the WERKLY STAR of to-day. We confidently assert that no weekly paper in the country contains a greater variety, or more interesting matter from all parts of the world than this journal. Tales, poetry, witticisms, personal items, interesting correspondence, and news from all quarters enrich its columns. As a history of what is going on at the Capital of the Nation, it never had an equal.

SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS

The Union cautions the South against sympathy with the Know Nothings, and takes ground against French diplomacy in Hayti. The Intelligencer says of the Metropolitan

"Our readers will be pleased to see that nothing daunted by the "hard times," nor by the apathy of capitalists and business men, the President and Directors of this Company have determined to put a portion of this im portant work under contract. This portion extends from the wetsern line of the District of Columbia (three and a half miles from Georgetown) to the city of Frederick. The connexion with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad once secured, it will develop the importance of the enterprise, saving a di forty-odd miles between Washington and the junction of the road near the Point of Recks, and connecting Georgetown and Washington with the trade of a rich and beautiful agricultural region.

As the proposed work is unquestionably of national interest, and as Congress is the local legislature for the District, can there be a reasonable doubt of the propriety of an early appropriation in aid of the work? From the depot of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the western limit of the District is between six and seven miles, and the aid sought would perhaps be sufficient for the construction of that part of the road and of a substantial via duct over Rock Creek. Nor would we suggest this as a gratuity, or a corporator, but as an advance for the free transportation of the mails and all other public property over the road. We hope our public authorities are prepared to press the subject upon the attention of Congress. in a satisfactory manner, in time for action at the present session.

PAY UP .- The agents for the Star complain that many of our subscribers fail to pay for their papers. This is wrong. The charge is small, and should be paid regularly and promptly. We trust that with the new year the delinquents will turn over a new leaf and

New York .- For the year ending September 1st, 1854, the advertising and printing for the Corporation of New York cost the city $73, 261. It is said that if a late contract for advertising goes into effect the city printing and advertising for 1855 will reach $125,000

FIRE AT NORFOLK, VA .- On Wednesday evening, a fire broke out at Norfolk, in David Hitchings & Bro.'s boat manufactory, which communicated to the adjoining establishment, used by N. Nash for his machinery, marine railway, &c., and Mr. Wm. Church as a paint shop. They were both entirely consumed, together with several small frame houses. Loss $18,000 or $20,000.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

The Bill.—Having at length obtained a perfeet copy of the District judiciary reform bill, as it passed the House, we publish, it to-day, on our first page. It is to be hoped that it will be duly preserved by our subscribers, as it is quite probable that the corporate authori-Our friends will find us prepared at any ties of Washington and Georgetown will very of the people of the District upon it once more.

In a Bad Way .- The New York Herald is of opinion that the opposition to the present Administration are in a fair way to go to-Tophet; inasmuch as they have permitted one third of the session to pass without concen trating their forces on some common platform, to make battle against their common foe The English of this is, that the (Scotch) alien who conducts the Herald begins to realize that he cannot lead a majority of the House of Representatives of the United States by the nose to any point he may choose to take them. in the hope of using them to get revenge be cause his application for the post of American Minister to France was very properly regarded as an insult. He begs and prays for a union of all the elements of opposition in Congress, to break down the Pierce Admininistration. The truth is, he is foelish enough to have argued himself into the belief that all men are as entirely without moral principle as himself, who is one day for a measure or policy, and unblushingly the other way of thinking on the morrow. And he is mendacious enough to believe that gentlemen in the Congress of the United States, who differ from each other as widely as the poles in their views on public affairs, stand ready to be either all abolitionists or violent anti-abolitionists, all protectionists or free-traders, all annexationists or anti-acquisitionists, all Know Nothings or all Whigs, as may be necessary to secure a majority vote against each passing measure in the success of which the Administration are credited with taking an interest. This unnaturalized soldier of fortune, in urging such a policy on those he regards as enemies of the Administration, is evidently measuring their corn in his own bushel-judging of their moral honesty by the standard erected in his own breast.

The District Judiciary Reform Bill .- In the days of Shakspeare, "the law's delay" was deemed a good reason for committing suicide. The state of the law in the District of Columbia is now pretty much what it was in the days of Shakspeare. It is true that suicides are less frequent in this country than in England; and Englishmen ascribe that to the fact hat every man here expects to be President But to most of us, who are virtually cut off from this hope, as well as from many other things that would belong to us if were citizens. that profound observation uoes not apply.

1. In the report of 1830, (on law reform in this District.) to which we alluded in our last number, the committee use this language :

"So unfrequent are the terms of court, such its jurisdiction, practice, and course of pro-ceeding, that it takes two years and a half to collect an indisputable debt." This statement is as true now as it was then It is not necessary for us to go back to the first ages of the common law, and to point out the primitive notion out of which has sprung that poisonous and overshadowing excrescence, our Imparlance Term-which has no other effect than to protract litigation and to increase expense. Imparlances were abolished in England in that golden era of Law Reform, the year 1834; and since then the word is absolutely unknown to the law of that country. In Maryland, too, the Imparlance Term has been abolished since the cossion of this District. (See act of Assembly of 1829, chap. 166.) Most of the States have dispensed with the Appear-PRINTING FOR THE CITY GOVERNMENT OF ance Term also, substituting rule days, re curring at short intervals, instead.

The provisions of the bill just passed by the House of Representatives are ample and effectual upon this point. Section 2 enacts as

"All process for the institution and conducting of suits in said Court (of Common Pleas) shall be made returnable in the clerk's office thereof on a rule day. The first Monday in disbursements, it was agreed that when they each month shall be a rule day, except in those months upon the first Mondays whereof the terms of said court shall commence, as herein provided; in which case the last Mondays of the months respectively preceding those in which the court shall commence its terms as aforesaid, shall be rule days."

It also provides that "if the defendant fail to appear and plead at the next rules, judgment by default shall be entered against him by the clerk in the office;" and it does not permit this office judgment to be set aside by any pleading which does not go to the merits, unless such pleading be filed at the first rule day after the rule to plead.

2. The bill makes the terms of courts more frequent. The Court of Common Pleas is to hold three terms a year, and the Criminal Court four terms a year.

3. In the report of 1830 (already quoted more than once) we read as follows:

"No judge during vacation has power to order publication against absent defendants; to ratify nisi or final sales made by trustees to confirm an auditor's report; or order dis tribution of assets in the hands of a trustee. The consequence is that whenever a party chooses to contest a case, he is furnished with opportunities at every stage of it to delay a final decree. . . . Cases sometimes occur in which large sums of money are tied up in the hands of a trustee, waiting the confirmafour or five years."

The bill which has passed the House and is now before the Senate, obviates all these inconveniences by declaring that the proposed Court of Equity shall be always open for the transaction of business.

4. The bill discourages these vexatious devices which are often resorted to only for the purpose of gaining time. It provides that "pleas in abatement [dilatory pleas] and special demurrers shall be filed at the first rule day after the rule given to plead, and not afterwards."

5. There is another improvement which it is deemed desirable to see introduced into the District system of procedure, but which the provisions already considered have perhaps rendered unnecessary. We mean some such provision as has been incorporated into the code of Virginia:

"If at the return day of any process, it be not returned executed, an alias or other proper process may be issued, without waiting where the first process is returnable to a term) for the subsequent process to be awarded at rules." (Va. Code, title 51, chap. 170, sec. 3.)

With us, the writ is very often returned non est, and very often it is not returned at all; and the consequence is no less serious than united their vote upon an honest and unexceptionable man, who had been a party democrat.

They have not been disappointed in the re-

> Resping the Fruits of Demagogue ism -North to preach a "higher law" than the Con- sembled. One half of them have not the faint-stitution and laws, State and national. Nearly every demagogue who has been ambitious of office-town, county or State-or of a seat in Congress, has some time or other aided and abetted the violation of the fugitive slave law, by way of working himself into the good graces of the "higher law" mob. The latter, it seems, appear inclined to elaborate the doctrines thus instilled into them. It was designed to teach them only that the legal rights of Southern persons were not to be observed. Hunger is now, however, suggesting that if it is right to set the laws at defiance for socalled philanthropic reasons, it is eminently so, to keep body and soul together, and that it is no more improper to own a man, than (in hard times like the present) to own the property for which other men have labored faithfully and for a mere pittance, to create. Nothing is easier than to slide from higher lawism into agrarianism, and the late prevalance of higher law teachings has fearfully increased the tendency towards agrarianism which has always so crazed our Northern cities. We expect nothing else more than to hear of terrible bread riots at the North ere long, and shall regard them as but the quod erat demonstrandum of the industry with which, for the vilest political ends, the ignorant and poor there have been urged to believe that their opinions of the fitness of things may rightfully be carried out, the law to the contrary notwithstanding.

The First of January in Washington .-The President's mansion will be thrown open on Monday next at the hour of noon, according to the time-honored custom, when the President and his personal and, official family will probably be called on by at least five thousand persons in the course of the day.

The day will be devoted to pleasure by a large number of our citizens. Beside the receptions of the President and members of the Cabinet, Mayor Towers, ex Mayors Maury and Seaton, Mr. Walter, the architect, Col. Berrett, City Postmaster, and a large number of our most prominent citizens will also keep open houses for the reception of their friends here and from a distance.

Drawing Money from the Treasury .- Up to the close of business, yesterday, the Treasury Department proper had drawn, in the course of the current week, on the Sub treasury in New York for $1,600,000. It was expected, this morning, that the similar drafts made to-day would amount to an aggregate of a million of dollars.

Light House Keepers Appointed .- James P. Keating has been appointed keeper of the light-house at Point Laura, (San Diego,) Cal. at $1,000 per annum. George G. Bowden has been appointed assistant keeper of the lighthouse at Boon Island, Me., at $300 per annum.

Redemption of United States Stocks -Some $900,000 of Government stocks were redeemed yesterday. $795,227 58 of this immense sum was on account of " The Bank for Savings" in New York, of which Najar Taylor is the president. This was stock of the years 1817 and 1848.

So they Go .- It is estimated in this city, in official circles, that there has been more perjury perpetrated under the law graduating the price of the public lands so very recently enacted, than under all the other laws connected with the public land system since the foundation of the Government!

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29, 1854. There is a good deal of anxiety, just now, in reference to the financial condition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. About four hundred thousand dollars of the company's notes are out and rapidly maturing. Most of them fall due on the 1st and 4th of January. Whether they can be met is a problem yet undecided. Up to this time, I am reliably informed, no arrangement has been made towards that end; and there are those who say none will be. It is certainly a large amount of money to raise, in so brief a space, more especially when we consider the stringent condition of financial affairs. A rumor prevailed made soon. The discipline, instruction, and means early this morning, having its origin, no doubt, in the buoyant imaginings of certain interested "bulls," that negotiations had been consummated by which the required amount of funds should be forthcoming, and that the company's notes would certainly be paid. This had the effect of "kiting" the stock about three dollars per share, and large sales were made, some as high as 44; closing, however, at 424 cash. During the atternoon, it was ascertained that the morning rumor required confirmation-that, in fact, no arrangements had been effected towards the approaching crisis, and things fell "flat." The "bulls" and "bears" have a grand pretext, and they will use it whilst there exists a chance. For my own part, though running counter to preponderating public sentiment. I have implicit confidence that the company will promptly meet all its obligations. Our well known millionaire and distinguished financier, John S. Gittings, Esq., is chairman of the finance committee. He is a host in himself, and has never been known to fail in accomplishing anything where money was concerned. The idea that so gigantic a work, one in which ever thirty millions of dollars are involved, a great enterprise inseperately interwoven with the very existence of our city, an iron link binding us with all the lars, is preposterous. If sacrifice needs be made, this corporation is able to do it; must, and will do it.

Our City Council seems to be increasing in rabidness. With some few exceptions a more est idea of what belongs to legislators, and the other half not much more. Incipient school-boys could do better, and exhibit more manliness. Their assemblages are a child's play throughout. Sober judgment and judicious acting are totally lost sight of. The officers, agents, &c., of the Water Works were sent in to the Councils this afternoon, but are not yet fully acted upon. There are refractory members who, having self-interest and partizan truckling more at heart than the good of the city, seem determined to give trouble. They aim at opposing the executive, and exhibit the qual ties of horse jockies from their peculiar prediliction for swapping one interest to gain another.

THE GREAT MARBLE STATUE THE DYING GLADIATOR.

ING, 4t street, near Pa, avenue, from 9 o'clk a. m. until 10 p. m. daily. ADMITTANCE 25 CENTS. "A STATUE of surpassing mori. Its power and pathos are in ependent of time, place and condition. The charm and power o the statue consist in the amazing truth with which the two great elements of humanity and mortality are delineated. The artist gives us all the pathos and the tragely of death

Nothing has been done for effect. No vu gar applause is courted, and the decercy and dignity of truth are scrupulously observed "- Lillard's fix Months in Italy. "A wonderful production of art. I's simplicity is such that it does not strike at first : the admiration comes afterward, and in a tide sufficiently deep and strong. At the moment we behold the Dying Gladistor his agony is past. It is the mement of exhaustion, of faintness of death."- Mrs Ellis immortal stanza: Is: before me the Gladistor lie: He leans upon his hand—his manly brow Consents to death, but conquers agony, And his droop'd head sinks gradually low-From the red gash, fall heavy, one by one, Like the first of a thunder-shower; and now The arena swims around him-he is gone.

He heard it, but he heeded it not-his eyes Were with his heart, and that was far away; He reck'd not of the life he lost, nor prize; But where his rude hut by the Danube lay, There were his young barbarians all at play, There was their Dacian mother-he. their sire Butcher'd to make a Roman holiday-All this rush'd with his blood-shall he expire, And unavenged?
